A Broadly Representative Bibliography Of Materials on Sex Education

The materials in this bibliography are illustrative of the printed and audio-visual aids available currently to schools interested in either the establishment or improvement of health and sex education programs for children of elementary school age. The prices quoted were the latest examined at the time of publication of this bibliography.

It is suggested that school districts interested in acquiring such materials appoint a staff committee whose primary task is the selection of appropriate materials based on the school district's needs and interests. Local school district staffs are in the best position to evaluate which instructional materials are best suited to accomplish program objectives.
